

BUT It's for a REASON

(That silent season in your life, when you have done everything you ought to do and it seems nothing is working, is an important time in your life, grasp it, you're being developed.)